RECYCLING & THE ENVIROMENT

There are many companies that collect old, scrap metal, but none of them have our commitment to recycling.

Recycling is extremely important for the safety of our future when it comes to the availability of resources.

By recycling your waste material you are not only helping to reduce carbon emissions, but your helping to reduce the over production and mining of raw minerals.

Recycling is also tremendously important when it comes to saving energy, the less energy that is used in the production of refining raw minerals and the overall metal Industry, can seriously reduce pollution and the added need to find extra land fill spaces when it comes to tipping waste products. All of these issues are starting to seriously affect our society today and without change, they will destroy the chance of a greener future for our children in years to come..

YOUR DUTY OF CARE

You must deal responsibly with any waste your business produces.

This is known as your 'duty of care'. Business waste includes any waste that comes from:

- Construction
- Demolition
- Industry
- Agriculture
- Commercial
- Property Management

Your duty of care lasts from the moment the waste is produced to when it's received by a business that is authorised to deal with it. For example, a license collector or a disposal site.

Remember, if your business generates any waste electrical or Electronic equipment (WEEE) it needs to comply with UK WEEE Regulations. You must dispose of any waste electrical or electronic equipment (WEEE) in line with your duty of care.

THE COST OF RECYCLING

Business rates do not cover commercial waste recycling collections, so it is important that you have a waste and recycling service set up in order to comply with your DUTY OF CARE.

As the cost of waste disposal is rapidly increasing it makes sense for all businesses to reduce their costs by recycling as much as possible.

But disposal companies can be extremely costly and now with new laws you will not even be allowed to sell your companies scrap, without relevant licenses or a taxable scrap account (that is registered at a recycling centre) and for anyone caught selling their scrap for cash will be heavily fined and criminally prosecuted.

With that also, any scrap that is sold directly by you, will be taxable and must be declared at the end of each tax year, all records of these sales and disposal must be kept and any scrap that is given away or sold must only be to a registered license holder or you maybe in breach of your 'DUTY OF CARE' and prosecuted by a court of law.

HOW WE CAN SAVE YOU MONEY

Richardson & Son's are fully registered with the Governments Environmental Agency, Metropolitan Police and Licensed as a Scrap Metal Collector with Bexley Council.

By using our company to dispose of your electrical waste, scrap metal and old appliances, you no longer have to worry if your metal is being disposed of incorrectly or illegally.

We supply all transfer paperwork upon collections, making the transfer a simple and straight forward process.

We can remove the cost of your disposals and lower your annual tipping fees by collecting your waste materials for FREE, we then recover our costs by means of stripping, separating and sorting the metal for recycling and therefore off setting the costs of the collection as we sell the recyclable material on.

By allowing us to dispose of your metal waste you also remove the need to store waste materials, hence saving you valuable space, man power, paperwork and the need to fulfill further Health and Safety regulations.
